

ABSTRACT

The invention presents a method for network downloading of music files by obtaining at least one music preference and accessing at least one network based music file, the music
5 file including at least one music attribute. The music attribute is compared to the music preference, and the music file is downloaded based on the comparison.